

University of Texas M. D. Anderson Cancer Center Clinical Cancer Genetics Program
*presents

Familial Adenomatous Polyposis (FAP)
Patient Education Conference

Saturday, April 4, 2009
CPB 8th Floor Conference Rooms

Time	Speaker	Topic
8:30 - 9:00 am	--	Registration and Breakfast *
9:00 – 9:10	Patrick Lynch, MD, and Miguel Rodriguez-Bigas, MD	Welcome Remarks
9:10 – 9:40	Thuy Vu, MS	Overview of FAP and Importance of Family History
9:40 – 10:10	Devki Saraiya, MS	Genetic Testing: Understanding the process, Interpreting the Results, and Updates to the Testing Methods
10:10 – 10:25	--	Break *
10:25 – 10:55	Patrick Lynch, MD	Surveillance of the GI Tract
10:55 – 11:25	Miguel Rodriguez-Bigas, MD	Surgical Management of the GI Tract
11:25 – 12:00 pm	--	Lunch with Providers *
12:00 – 12:30	Patrick Lynch, MD	Update on Chemoprevention Trials
12:30 – 1:00	Miguel Rodriguez-Bigas, MD	Management of Extra-Intestinal Features
1:00 – 1:30	Patrick Lynch, MD	Overview of Desmoid Tumors and Management Strategies
1:30 – 2:00	--	Provider Panel – all speakers, plus WOC nurse Julie Ortiz and Dietician Joel Rush
2:00 pm	Patrick Lynch, MD, and Miguel Rodriguez-Bigas, MD	Reception and Adjourn

* We encourage attendees to meet and visit with the members of our FAP Research Team during the breaks. The FAP research staff will be sitting at tables outside the conference room. This includes: FAP Registry Coordinator, Study Coordinators for the adult and pediatric chemoprevention studies and Study Coordinator for the web-based intervention MyFAP.